Pimp my Mobile Home!

... ECOCAMPING supporting member Vacanceselect presented their new „Bohemian Lodge“ at the leading travel fair in Holland...

What should we do with an ageing mobile home?

ECOCAMPING supporting member Vacanceselect showed a sustainable and stylish way of renovation at the Vakantiebeurs 2018 in Utrecht.

Upcycling instead of disposal:

After an ecological renovation this environment-friendly mobile home pleases the eye.

This beauty took the hearts of the visitors by storm. Thus the prototypes placed in Italy (camping site Orlando in Chianti) are almost fully booked.

Obviously ECOCAMPING appreciates this eco and resources friendly project.

The carefully built-in details and innovations proof:

You don't have to sacrifice comfort to be eco-friendly. This glamping accommodation opens the door to combining luxury and environment friendly vacations.

And it saves pennies on the dollar:
Upcycling the old mobile home saved more than forty percent in comparison to purchasing a completely new one.
